DISASSEMBLY

1. Place the table upside down on a soft, flat surface. Using an Allen key, remove the screws connecting the metal frame to the legs by turning counterclockwise to loosen them. Once loosened, remove both the screws and washers. Repeat this process for the long screws on the table head.

2. Remove the legs from the frame and tabletop by sliding of off. If you encounter any resistance, ensure all screws from the previous step have been removed. Detach the plastic gliders from the legs.

3. Remove the wooden slats from the metal frame. Therefor unscrew the screws securing them in place.
